

LACTE course feedback

The Los Angeles Collaborative for Teacher Excellence, as part of its reporting to the National Science Foundation, needs to gather information on the activities it sponsors. Your answers are anonymous, and will help LACTE improve its program, so please answer the following questions as honestly and completely as you can.

Course title _____
 What is your year in school? _____
 What is your major (or most likely major if not yet declared)? _____
 What is your career goal? _____
 What is your gender? _____
 What is your ethnicity? _____

Please estimate how often the following approaches were used in this course

	Always	Frequently	Sometimes	Occasionally	Never Lecture
Demonstrations to teach a concept
Open-ended questions
Making connections between the course content and other subject
Hands-on activities
Working in groups
Having students explain concepts to each other
Grading on individual or group presentations
Using technology to assist learning
Encouraging students to consider alternative explanations and solutions
Arranging seating to encourage discussion
Writing for understanding
Testing on analysis and understanding as well as facts and solving problems

Please answer the questions on the back of this page

Please respond to the following as they relate to this course

	1 strongly agree	2 somewhat agree	3 neutral	4 somewhat disagree	5 strongly disagree
Students are asked communicate knowledge in a variety of forms, such as written, oral, graphical, ...
Students are asked to work cooperatively with other students in a group
Students are given time and encouragement to discuss the course material with each other and the professor
The material in the course is conveyed in a variety of ways, not just by lecture
Students are asked to assemble information, analyze the material, and draw conclusions
The course builds on students= prior knowledge
The connections between the course material and other disciplines or the real world are presented

- 1) What, if anything, about this class has helped you learn?

- 2) What, if anything about this class has hindered your learning?

- 3) What is the one thing you would most like to change about this course?

- 4) Has anything in this course affected your achievement in other courses? Please explain.

Thank you for your feedback